FORMER FORGER DIES IN HOSPITAL

James Milton Clabaugh, twice sentenced to Penitentiary from this County, Dies in a Philadelphia Hospital. His Record.

James Milton Clabaugh, twice sentenced from Adams County to the Eastern Penitentiary, died on Monday in the Episcopal Hospital at Philadelphia. His wife, also sentenced from this county, is still under the jurisdiction of the penitentiary authorities. Clabaugh was forty years of age. His death was caused by cirrhosis of the liver.

In 1908 he was accused of forgery, and, while in the Adams County Jail awaiting trial, contrived a means of escape. He reached the top of the wall surrounding the jail yard one night and let himself down from the southeast corner of the wall by means of a blanket. He dropped the remainder of the way and in the fall sustained a broken leg. He crawled to the foot of the slope at the old Reformed burying ground and lay there all night being found the following morning by Sheriff Colestock. In the darkness he had taken the highest portion of the wall from which to make his drop.

At April Court that year he was sentenced in nine cases of forgery, the longest term being three years and the other sentences being concurrent. He was also given a year's sentence for escape but this, too, ran concurrent.

Some time after his release from the penitentiary Clabaugh was arrested for chicken stealing and pleaded guilty on March 28, 1911 when he received another penitentiary sentence of not less than one year nor more than three years. He was released some time ago.

Anna Clabaugh, his wife, was arrested in the fall of 1911 on two charges, the one of keeping a disorderly house and the other for receiving stolen goods, chickens being the goods received. She pleaded guilty to the first charge but later withdrew this plea and the matter did not come to trial when she received a sentence of not less than nine months or more than three years on the other charge. It is understood that she is still under the supervision of the authorities at the penitentiary. She survives her husband together with two sons, said to be living in Baltimore, and a sister thought to have her residence in York County.

REAL MYSTERY

Pair of Shoes and Stockings Burned by Side of Bed.

A pair of shoes and stockings were burned in a mysterious manner at the home of Joseph Rickrode, residing on the Pigeon Hills, Berwick township, one night recently. There is living with the Rickrode family a girl of about 13 years of age, whose name has not been learned. Mr. Rickrode purchased a pair of new shoes and presented them to the girl. In the evening when she retired, she placed the shoes and her stockings on the floor by the side of her bed. Next morning when she arose she found nothing where the shoes and stockings were but a small heap of ashes, they having burned during the night from some cause unknown; but nothing else was injured. Another strange thing is that no member of the household detected the odor of the burning leather until the following morning.

VALUABLE CANE

Valuable Relic Discovered and Converted into Cane.

While sorting lumber near the old McAllister tract several weeks ago E. P. Miller came upon a board containing three bullets close together. He placed the piece of lumber in the hands of Mr. Pennock, one of the expert carvers at the local furniture plants, and he has brought out of it a unique cane, containing in addition to the bullets, pictures of General Meade, his horse and his headquarters, with several battle scenes.

HOUSE BURNED AT ORRTANNA

Stultz Residence Burns to the Ground in an Early Morning Blaze. Furniture almost All Destroyed. Carried Insurance.

Fired at an early hour Wednesday morning completely destroyed the home of John Stultz, at Orrtanna, together with nearly all the contents.

Mr. and Mrs. Stultz and their child were the occupants of the building, a frame two-story structure. They discovered the fire about two o'clock in the morning and it was then eating its way along the roof and spreading rapidly. The flue from a kitchen stove located in a small outside pantry is believed to have been the cause.

The Stultz family had time only to gather up some clothing before they were compelled to leave. They hurriedly donned these garments on the outside and then directed their efforts to saving some of the furniture. The building burned rapidly, however, and they were able to get out very little. The home of H. F. Starnier adjoining caught, too, and with the burning Stultz building in flames only twelve feet distant the volunteer fire fighters of the village had a hard task before them to keep both structures from burning to the ground. They were successful, however, in saving the Starnier home.

Mr. Stultz is a railroad section hand. He carried insurance of $600 in the Adams County Mutual Fire Insurance Company.

$10,000 FIRE

Kiln Sheds, Cooper Shop and Grinding Mill at Thomassville Burned.

Fire supposed to have been caused by hot lime loaded into a box car Wednesday night destroyed the grinding department, cooperage shop and the sheds of a battery of 14 kilns at the plant of the Thomassville Stone and Lime company, entailing a loss of approximately $10,000, which is covered by insurance. In response to a call for help sent to York the apparatus and a number of the members of the Union Fire company were sent to the scene of the fire and greatly assisted in confining the flames to the one plant and saving a twin structure on the opposite sides of the Western Maryland Railroad from destruction. The area burned covers about 400 by 50 feet. Thirty five men will be thrown out of employment for 60 days. A contract for a fire-proof structure of steel to replace the frame building destroyed was awarded by the Thomassville company before the flames had subsided, to the George F. Motter's Sons of York.

HOUSE ON FIRE

Curtains Take Fire from Lamp. Woman Puts out Blaze.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Hartzell, near Pines Church, Straban township, had a narrow escape from destruction one evening recently. Mrs. Hartzell was engaged at sewing in the sitting room which was closed, when the blaze struck out the top of the lamp chimney and ignited the lace curtains at the windows, which burned with a flash, and set fire to the frame work and wall paper. Mrs. Hartzell, with presence of mind, extinguished the flames with a garment at which she was sewing, but not until her hands and face were severely scorched. The loss, which was comparatively small, was covered by insurance in the Mummaburg company.

ONE INJURED IN UGLY RUNAWAY

Horse Killed, Man Hurt and Vehicles Damaged in Serious Runaway Near Hampton. Happened during Dense Midnight Darkness.

A disastrous driving accident in which three teams figured, one horse being killed, one person injured and a buggy wrecked occurred about 11 o'clock at night near the Brethren Meeting House, some distance beyond Hampton.

Charles Dicks, son of Mr. and Mrs. Haines B. Dicks, residing near Round Hill, was driving along the pike on his way home, when his team collided with the team of some unknown person going in the opposite direction. Mr. Dicks was thrown to the road and one of his arms and one of his legs were badly injured. He also sustained minor bruises about the body. The unknown person continued on his way.

The collision caused the horse of Mr. Dicks to run away, and in his mad rush he met the team of Charles Stock, son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel W. Stock, residing at Arendt's mill, near Waldheim, who was also driving in the opposite direction. The end of a shaft of the runaway team pierced the breast of the Stock horse and penetrated the body to the depth of about two feet. The animal fell to the road and died in less than 10 minutes. The Dicks horse escaped uninjured, but the buggy was an almost complete wreck. The animal killed was owned by young Stock's father and was known as a speedy pacing family mare, which was valued at $250.

The accident happened near the home of Jacob Miller, who on being aroused, kindly harnessed two of his mules and pulled the dead animal out of the way. Young Stock escaped injury, and his buggy was only slightly damaged.

REFORMEDS MEET SECOND DEFEAT

Last Year's Champions Fall before Catholics in Best Game of the Season. Fast Fielding and Heavy Hitting Mark Contest.

Real base ball was provided the largest crowd of the season Wednesday evening and five fast innings resulted in a victory for the Catholics over the Reformed by a score of 3 to 2. Collection $7.18.

The Reformed team—last year's champions—scored their two in the first when Hoofnagle drew a base on balls, got to second on a passed ball and to third on David Kendlehart's sacrifice. He scored on Appler's two bagger. Appler took third on a passed ball and scored when Miller was thrown out at first on a dropped third strike.

The heavy hitting batters of the Catholics got to Appler in their half of the first. Charles Stock and Joe Stock each hit for two bases and Rosensteel for three. Rosensteel was left on third when Wisotzkey fled out to Stahley.

There was no further scoring until the fourth, Appler and Stock having good control and fast fielding keeping down the score.

In the fourth George Kendlehart's short throw which Bringman dropped, allowed Kimple to get to first. Wisotzkey and Swisher got hits, filling the bases and Kimple scored on Swope's out to Stahley. A double steal advanced Wisotzkey and Swisher a base but Paul Stock was an easy out and the inning was over.

Starting the fifth for the Reformed George Kendlehart was struck on the back by a pitched ball. Bringman knocked out a speedy grounder to Lawrence Oylor who scooped it up, touched second and threw to Kimple at first completing one of the speediest and best executed double plays that Nixon Field has seen for many a day. Stahley struck out and the game was over.

SULZER REFUSES TO QUIT OFFICE

Claims Impeachment Proceedings Are Illegal.

WILL APPEAL TO COURTS

New York Governor Will Resist Removal by Use of "Every Weapon in His Power."

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 14.—Governor William Sulzer, impeached by the assembly of the New York legislature, will resist removal from office, refuse to recognize Lieutenant Governor Glynn as acting governor and use every weapon in his power to retain his office, before, during and after his trial for impeachment, regardless of the verdict.

If Sulzer is deposed Glynn automatically takes the governorship. His plan of resistance to the effort to oust him embraces an appeal to the courts when such may become necessary, probably through mandamus proceedings. He intends to attempt to exercise all the functions of governor, including the pardon right if desirable, so long as he remains within the state during the remainder of his term or until stopped by the courts.

In short, Governor Sulzer will refuse to recognize the impeachment proceedings, and may refuse to appear before the court of impeachment for trial. He bases his program chiefly on the ground that the assembly had no constitutional right to consider impeachment at its extraordinary session.

As a part of his program, Governor Sulzer will continue to issue instructions to state troops and the naval militia as commander-in-chief, to the heads of the various state departments under his direction and will attempt to occupy the executive chamber daily.

The following statement was made by Lieutenant Governor Glynn: "I do not intend to enter into any physical contest with Mr. Sulzer over the office of governor. As far as I am concerned there will be no circus or military maneuvers about occupying the executive chamber. The law is supreme."

The lieutenant governor's brief statement was issued in response to reports circulated through the corridors of the capitol that he was prepared to resort to force, if necessary, to press what his friends regarded as his just claim to the governorship.

There was no dearth of such reports. One was to the effect that Governor Sulzer, as a last recourse, might ask the state troops to protect him in continuing his functions as governor.

Monday, Sept. 22, was made a tentative selection for the date for trying the governor on the impeachment charges. This selection, subject to change, was reached at a conference by Senator Wagner, president pro tem of the senate, and judges of the court of appeals, who will sit with the senate as the trial court.

It is contended by Sulzer's opponents that the acceptance of the articles of impeachment by the senate automatically suspends the governor from the functions of his office. It is this stake of the impeachment that brought forth the declaration of Sulzer's intention to fight against removal.

Governor Sulzer was impeached of high crimes and misdemeanors in diverting campaign funds to his own use by the Democratic majority in the assembly. The vote was 79 to 45, and came after an all-night session, and after the governor's wife had made an eleven-hour effort to save him at the risk of sacrificing her own reputation by taking the blame herself of using the checks in question for stock speculation in her husband's name.

The formal notification that the assembly had voted to impeach the governor was presented to the senate by a committee of the assembly. The majority leader, Senator Wagner, assured the committee "that proper action" would be taken.

The fact that the various state departments and bureaus are divided in their allegiance to the executive and the Democratic organization which is seeking to depose him, stimulates interest in the complicated situation. The possibility of two men endeavoring to discharge the functions of the chief executive at the same time suggests a chaotic condition that the courts alone would have power to deal with.

CONGRESS WANTS RECESS

Rest Till Nov. 1 Planned When Tariff and Currency Bills Pass.

Washington, Aug. 14.—Democrats and Republicans of the senate are earnestly considering the advisability of a recess of congress until Nov. 1 after the completion of the tariff bill and passage of the currency bill in the house.

Senate Democrats will caucus and discuss a proposal of recess with plans for speeding up the tariff bill.

SAYS PHYSICIAN KILLED PATIENT

Ohio Surgeon Started to Dissect a Living Man.

Marietta, O., Aug. 14.—With the commitment to Longview asylum, in Cincinnati, of Dr. William R. Dabney, there has come to light one of the most remarkable chapters in medical history.

Not until the crazed surgeon had undertaken to perform vivisection on a patient was it realized by the attendants in the operating room that madness was directing the arm and scalpel as it sought to uncover vital organs.

It was the death on the operating table of an aged and wealthy farmer, Jacob F. Schaad, that brought Dr. Dabney's career to a climax. Schaad had a tumorous growth on his upper jaw. He consulted Dr. Dabney, and was assured that a minor operation would remove the disfigurement.

Besides Dr. Dabney and the nurse, there were present, when Schaad had lapsed into unconsciousness under the influence of an anesthetic, Dr. C. B. Ballard and Dr. J. B. Penrose. As Dr. Dabney proceeded with the knife the two surgeons detected that there was something wrong, and both began to remonstrate. Dr. Dabney became angry and ordered them from the operating room.

When the two doctors had left, according to the nurse, who had remained trembling beside the unconscious patient, Dr. Dabney began to dissect the face and throat of the unconscious Schaad. Both sides of the face were laid open and deep incisions made in the throat. But the skill of the mad surgeon was shown in the dexterity with which he avoided inflicting a fatal wound on his living subject.

How far the crazed surgeon would have proceeded cannot be told, for the horrified nurse ran out, shrieking that Dr. Dabney was killing his patient. Her cries brought Doctors Ballard and Penrose, with several of the hospital attendants, to the rescue, and Dr. Dabney, by this time a raging maniac, brandishing his scalpel over the unconscious living subject, was disarmed and subdued after a desperate struggle.

NOTED SOCIALIST DEAD

August Bebel, Member of German Parliament Since 1871, Passes Away.
Zurich, Switzerland, Aug. 14.—August Ferdinand Bebel, the German Socialist leader, died here, aged seventy-three years.

August Bebel was probably the best known of the modern Socialist leaders. He joined the German labor movement in 1862.

He was a member of the Imperial parliament almost continuously from its formation in 1871. Not long after its first session he was sentenced to two years' imprisonment for high treason and to another nine months for lese majeste. He was a good writer and published many books on Socialism.

Bebel actively opposed Bismarck's anti-Socialist laws and was often arrested and fined when they were in force. The annexation of Alsace-Lorraine was another of his pet aversions, which he called Bismarck's "fatal crime."

LIND EXPRESSES HIS GOOD INTENT

Tells Mexico U. S. Will Withhold Recognition.

TO ATTACK REBELS' BACKERS

American Interests Concerned In Revolution to Be Exposed by Special Senate Committee.

Washington, Aug. 14.—Dispatches to the state department from John Lind, personal representative of President Wilson in Mexico, described his visit with Frederico Gamboa, Mexican minister of foreign relations.

Though officials declined to discuss the dispatches, it was understood on good authority that the conversation extended beyond the mere formalities of a social call.

Senor Gamboa and Mr. Lind talked briefly about the situation, and though Mr. Lind did not reveal entirely the purposes of his errand, he is declared to have set at rest rumors that he was coming to interfere directly in Mexican politics. The general understanding in official circles is that Mr. Lind had intimated the American government would continue to oppose recognition until a constitutional election was held.

Certain American interests alleged to be concerned in revolutionary activities in Mexico will be attacked in the report of the special senate committee, which investigated conditions along the border. Senator Smith, of Michigan, chairman, laid an outline before the foreign relations committee indicating the report would deal particularly with activities of American representatives of the revolutionists and the aid they are reported to have received from the American side of the border in the Madero uprising and succeeding revolutions.

A conference between President Wilson and the house committee on foreign affairs will be held soon.

During the tariff debate in the senate Senator Clapp, Progressive Republican, referred in passing to President Wilson and the Mexican situation.

"I believe your president has the love and the confidence of the American people," said he. "I do not share in the effort here or elsewhere to embarrass him in the delicate situation which now confronts him."

"Though I would put a stop to the president dictating tariff bills, I would leave him alone in the delicate situation which now confronts him, believing that he will find the right solution. I believe he has shown wisdom in his 'back office'."

Henry Lane Wilson, the furloughed ambassador to Mexico, issued a statement attacking the recent statement accredited to the British foreign office declaring that Great Britain had recognized the Huerta government as a provisional government only; that its recognition was prompted by a desire to contribute to the restoration of order, and also because of Wilson's congratulatory speech on the occasion of the reception of the Mexico City diplomatic corps by Huerta.

Mr. Wilson characterized the statement as "at variance with the traditions of the British foreign office and with the character it has maintained before the world for two centuries."

"I doubt the genuineness of the statement, as it is a pure subterfuge unworthy of the British foreign office," said Mr. Wilson in a lengthy discussion.

CODY DIED PENILESS

British Government May Provide For Aviator's Family.

London, Aug. 14.—Samuel F. Cody, the Anglo-American aviator, who was killed at Aldershot on Aug. 7, died practically penniless.

All the prize money he had won was spent by him in perfecting his machines and his wife and family were left in such a dependent position that the British government is making an investigation with a view of providing for them in some way.

The British government either has not heard or has taken no cognizance of the claim that Cody's legal widow is a patient in the Norristown, Pa., insane asylum. Her maiden name was Maude E. Lee.

In her behalf it was announced by her stepmother, Mrs. Joseph Lee, of 923 Howe street, Camden, N. J., that a fight would be made to establish that she was married to Cody and consequently was entitled to a share in any estate left by him.

Brothers Under Knife.

St. Joseph, Mo., Aug. 14.—Three brothers, Frank, Henry and M. A. Matheny, of Brockton, Iowa, were operated on at a hospital here for appendicitis. The operations closely followed one another and were performed by the same surgeon. The patients are doing well. Another brother died of appendicitis several months ago without an operation.

Launch Capsizes: Five Drown.

Backache is only a simple thing at first. But if you find 'tis from the kidneys.

That serious kidney troubles may follow.

That dropsy or Bright's disease may be the fatal end.

You will be glad to know the following experience.

'Tis the statement of a Gettysburg citizen.

Mrs. C. F. Brinkerhoff, 25 Breckenridge St., Gettysburg, Pa., says: "One of my family has had great benefit from Doan's Kidney Pills and we willingly recommend them. Last winter the one had a severe attack of kidney complaint and pains in the small of his back. One box of Doan's Kidney Pills made a cure."

Mrs. Brinkerhoff is only one of many Gettysburg people who have gratefully endorsed Doan's Kidney Pills. ## Lost Car Load of Silver Ore.

In June, 1908, there was shipped from the Cobalt district a car containing 14 tons of ore, worth about $3,000 a ton. The ore was consigned to a smelter at Perth Amboy, and John Black, one of the Cobalt pioneers and the shipper of the ore, just had to have money in a hurry to carry on his operations. It was the first lot of ore shipped from his mine, and was dispatched in such haste that Mr. Black forgot to take down the number of the car or to get a receipt for his ore. Just what happened to that car Mr. Black has been trying to find out ever since. The ore never reached its destination, and search for nearly five years has failed to bring to light a single pound of the ore. Mr. Black doesn't need the money now, but he never will overcome his curiosity as to the identity of persons nimble enough to make away with 14 tons of valuable silver ore, to say nothing of the whereabouts of the car itself.—Wall Street Journal.

FARMERS TOLD TO WAIT BY WILSON

Rural Credits Not Included in the Currency Bill.

PROMISES ACTION LATER

The President Does Not Believe It Advisable to Amend Measure Until Commission Now in Europe Reports.

Washington, Aug. 14.—Before the Democratic house caucus resumed its consideration of the administration currency bill President Wilson issued a statement announcing that he believed it not advisable to amend the measure at present with provisions for rural credits, but to postpone that phase of banking reform until the December session, when the commission now studying the subject in Europe will have reported.

Representative A. Mitchell Palmer, of Pennsylvania, chairman of the caucus, conferred with the president and was acquainted with the contents of the statement, through which it was hoped to persuade insurgent Democrats to abandon their fight for agricultural currency.

The president said: "Again and again during the discussion of the currency bill it has been urged that special provision should be made in it for the facilities of such credits as the farmers of the country most stand in need of—agricultural credit as distinguished from ordinary commercial and industrial credits.

"Such proposals were not adopted because such credits could be only imperfectly provided for in such a measure. The scope and character of the bill, its immediate and chief purpose, could not be made to reach as far as the special interests of the farmer required.

"Special machinery and a distinct system of banking must be provided for, if rural credits are to be successfully and adequately supplied. A government commission is now in Europe studying the interesting and highly successful methods which have been employed in several countries of the old world, and its report will be made to congress at a regular session next winter.

"It is confidently to be expected that the congress will at that session act upon the recommendations of that report and establish a complete and adequate system of rural credits. There is no subject more important to the welfare of the industrial development of the United States; there is no reform in which I would myself feel that a greater honor or privilege to take part, because I should feel that it was a service to the whole country of the first magnitude and significance. It should have accompanied and gone hand in hand with the reform of our banking and currency system if we had been ready to act wisely and with full knowledge of what we were about.

"There has been too little federal legislation framed to serve the farmer directly and with a deliberate adjustment to his real needs.

"One of the chief and most serious of these disadvantages has been that he had not been able to secure the extended bank accommodations he every year stands in need of, without paying the most burdensome rates of interest and saddling himself with mortgages and obligations of every kind which he fairly staggered under if he could carry them at all. In other countries systems of rural credit have been put into operation which not only have relieved the farmer but have put his enterprises upon a footing of easy accomplishment. Countries in which agriculture was steadily languishing because wholly unprofitable have seen their farm lands blossom again and their people turn once more hopefully to the soil for a living."

"Our farmers must have similar means afforded them of handling their financial needs, easily and inexpensively. They should be furnished these facilities before their enterprises languish, not afterwards.

"And they will be. This is our next great task and duty. The congress and the executive, working together, will certainly afford the needed machinery of relief and prosperity to the people of the countryside, and that very soon."

CATHOLICS END SESSION
Baltimore Is Chosen For 1914 Convention and All Officers Re-elected.

Milwaukee, Wis., Aug. 14.—Baltimore was chosen by unanimous vote as the place for holding the next convention of the American Federation of Catholic Societies at the closing session.

Officers were re-elected as follows: President, Charles I. Denechaud, New Orleans; secretary, Anthony Matro, St. Louis; treasurer, F. W. Heckenkamp, Quincy, Ill.

The 1915 convention will surely go to California, either Los Angeles or San Francisco, with the former city the favorite.

The action of the women delegates in voting not to organize a national Catholic women's union is still a chief topic in the lobbies of the convention hall.

To Raise Vice President's Pay.
Washington, Aug. 14.—Senator Saulsbury, of Delaware, introduced a bill to increase the salary of the vice president from $12,000 to $25,000 a year.

JAMES FARLEY.

Famous Strike Breaker Near Death From Tuberculosis.

One of the best known men in this country in recent years is James Farley, who has achieved fame as a strike breaker. He owns many race horses, some of which are at the Empire City track in Yonkers, N. Y. Although believed to be near death's door from tuberculosis, Mr. Farley caused himself to be taken to the race track, where, from a cot, he could watch the contests in which his horses were entered. He broke the interborough railway strike in New York city, netting $200,000 for himself. It was said, he has also broken strikes in Chicago, Cincinnati, San Francisco, Waterbury and many other cities in this country and Canada.

CULBERSON ILL; DEMOCRATS WORRIED

Absence of Senator May Affect the Tariff Majority.

Washington, Aug. 14.—Democratic worry over the probable fate of the tariff bill was increased by news of the illness of Senator Culbertson, of Texas.

The possibility that the appointment of Clayton to succeed Senator Johnston, of Alabama, would be opposed and a broadside attack on the bill in the senate by champions of the farmers' rights added to the uneasiness of the majority.

With a margin of only two votes in favor of the tariff bill before Senator Johnston's death, the Democratic leaders are apprehensive of the recent turn of events.

Discussion of the agricultural schedule and the proposed free listing of wheat in particular enlivened the tariff discussion in the senate. Senator Gronna, of North Dakota, proposed in lieu of free wheat a duty of six cents a bushel.

That the Democrats are treating the farmer unfairly was maintained by Senators Gronna, Clapp, Bristow, Smoot, Sherman and others who participated in the prolonged debate on wheat. Senator Williams, in charge of the agricultural schedule, and Senator Shively, of Indiana, defended the purpose of the Democrats to put wheat on the free list. Against the argument of unfair discrimination for the farmer made by the Republicans, they placed the assertion that never was there a greater "humbug" than the Republican claim of protection for the farmer.

$20,000,000 FOR WATERWAYS

Bixby's Report Includes Purchase of Chesapeake & Delaware Canal.

Washington, Aug. 14.—General W. H. Bixby, chief of engineers, United States army, reported to congress favorably on a project to build an inland waterway from Boston to Beaufort, N. C., at an expense to the government of $20,000,000.

Bixby's plans call for a lock canal of twelve feet draft and ninety feet wide from the Delaware river to New York harbor.

Among the recommendations is one that the Chesapeake & Delaware canal be purchased by the government, enlarged and made a sea level waterway. It is proposed that New Jersey contribute $3,000,000 and Pennsylvania $7,000,000 for the proposed system. An appropriation of $100,000, with an annual appropriation thereafter of $500,000 a year is urged.

JAPAN PROTECTS DR. SUN YAT SEN

100 Assassins Seek Life of Chinese Rebel Leader.

Tokio, Japan, Aug. 14.—One hundred assassins have been sent to Japan to kill Dr. Sun Yat Sen, Huang Sing and other Chinese revolutionary fugitives, by Provisional President Yuan Shi Kai, of China, according to the Japanese newspapers.

The Japanese government, in consequence of these reports, has arranged to give protection to the leaders of the Chinese revolution who have sought asylum in Japan. It declares, however, that it will not permit Japan to be used as headquarters for Chinese plot.

TWO BOYS DROWN IN CISTERN

Mother Nearly Lost Her Life in Frantic Effort to Save Them.

South Bethlehem, Pa., Aug. 14.—Two children of Mrs. Charles F. Bishop were drowned in a cistern at their home here and the mother nearly lost her own life in a frantic effort to save them.

James, aged eight years, in attempting to draw a bucket of water, lost his balance and fell into the cistern. His mother, hearing his cries from an upstairs room, sent six-year-old Edward to find out what was the matter.

It is believed the younger boy heard James splashing in the water and was dragged to his death in trying to pull him out. When their bodies were recovered the children were clasped in each other's arms.

Mrs. Bishop, hearing the cries of the younger boy, rushed to the cistern and, squeezing herself through the opening in the floor, dropped into the water as the children sank. She was rescued with difficulty by neighbors.

WOMAN BURNED IN FIELD

Suffering From Mental Trouble, She Disappeared From Home.

Lebanon, Pa., Aug. 14.—Lydia Seltzer, wife of Harvey L. Seltzer, a merchant of Palmyra, and daughter of former County Commissioner John S. Bomberger, died at the Lebanon hospital from burns.

Mrs. Seltzer seemed to be suffering from mental trouble for some weeks and disappeared from her home on Tuesday. She was found on Wednesday in a field on the outskirts of Palmyra, badly burned and dying.

It is not known whether she set fire to her clothing or her clothing caught fire by accident.

Rock Kills Miner.

Pottsville, Pa., Aug. 14.—Daniel Cahill, of Minersville, met a strange fate at the Pine Hill colliery when a large boulder which had become loosened on the top rock fell upon him the instant he walked under it. The sound of the fall was heard a great distance, and many miners hurried to Cahill's rescue, but it took an hour's work to remove the obstruction.

In Memoriam.
Your darling one Bernice Grace Reinecker, who died just one month ago to-day.
Dear father, mother and little sister, Don't think of me as in the tomb, I shall not see its shadows and gloom, And I shall not fear though the river be wide, For Jesus will carry me over the tide.
You'll never see me more in the long gray fields at night, You'll kiss me, my own dear mother, upon my cheek and brow, Nay—nay—ye must not weep nor let your grief be wild, Ye shall not fret for me, ye have another child.
Good-night, good-night dear father, mother and little sister, I'll wait for you all, you'll know where to find me in Heaven, Though every fond tie you have cherished be riven, Some time you'll follow me home to the land of the blest Where sighs are not heard and the weary ones rest.
I'm going to live with the angels, so fair, In the beautiful mansions above, I'll look for you all and wait for you there, Though you'll not see me on earth mother I shall look upon your face, And be often with you when you think I'm far away.
By Grandmother.

May Do Good Work Unknowingly.

Chemists show us that strange property, catalysis, which enables a substance while unaffected itself to incite to union elements around it. So a host or hostess who may know but little of those concerned may, as a social switchboard, bring together the halves of pairs of scissors, men who become lifelong friends, men and women who marry and are happy husbands and wives.

Instinct Above Intelligence.

A boy was asked to explain the difference between animal instinct and human intelligence. "If we had instinct," he said, "we should know everything we needed to know without learning it, but we've got reason, and so we have to study ourselves most blind or be a fool."

Putting the Matter Plainly.

He was an old-fashioned father, which explains why he said to the young man: "Are you sure you're able to give my daughter the comforts and luxuries to which she is accustomed at home?" To which the young man promptly replied: "As your daughter's salary has paid the rent and bought most of the clothes and food for your family, I think we can worry along."
